

Press release

Levallois, 20th August 2014 - SOFEMA will participate and exhibit at the ADS SHOW, taking place in Bordeaux on September 9th-11th 2014 on the Merignac Air Force Base 106. The company will welcome visitors at booth #71, near the Defense Pavilion.

After a successful first edition in 2012, the ADS SHOW, the international exhibition for the operational maintenance of aero defense equipment will once again gather the largest aerospace service providers. The previous edition attracted more than 3,000 visitors at the Merignac airbase, including foreign delegations, armies' decision-makers and international experts.

"The ADS SHOW has become the essential meeting place for anyone involved in the booming aero defense equipment industry. SOFEMA is proud to contribute to its success by presenting new solutions that ensure the operational capabilities of air forces around the world", said Guillaume Giscard d'Estaing, President of SOFEMA. The Company will showcase at the show a CAP 10 training aircraft as well as presenting the aerospace training it provides to technicians and crews.

The ADS Show offers a platform for meetings between market participants, demonstrations of innovative services and equipment and a number of workshops and conferences. In this context, SOFEMA will hold a workshop on September 10th from 10am to 11am: "Global Solution: the SOFEMA services platform".
